

BERT!

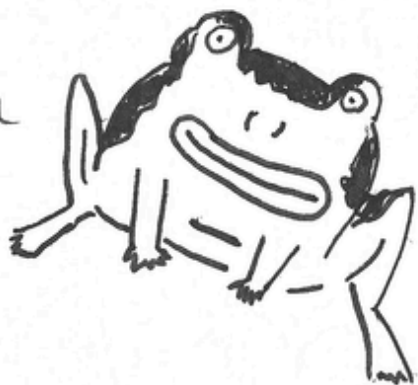

It's him. Bert.

By Jess Evenson

I went through a few different names before landing on Bert like...

- Pigeon
- Go-Go
- Root Beer
- Halloween
- Rabbit
- Chowder
- Wirt
- Jason Funderburker

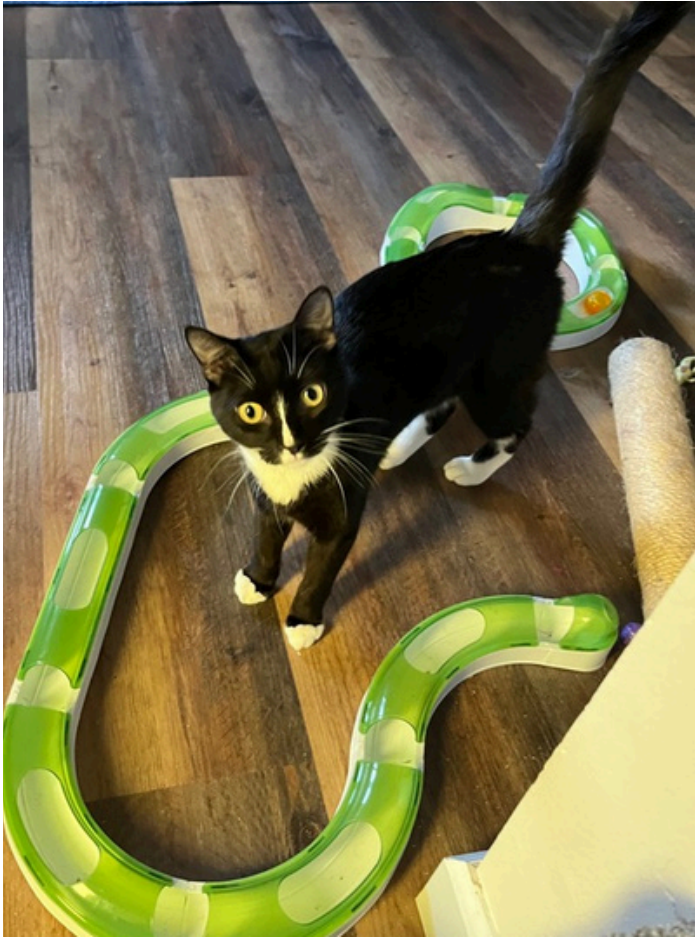

I finally decided ~~on~~ Bert for the pigeon-like noises he made when he got home (named after Bert from Sesame Street). I was later delighted to discover that he likes oatmeal too!

♥ My Bert ♥
♥ ♥ ♥ ♥ ♥ ♥ ♥ ♥ ♥ ♥

Looks at u, smally

Bigs my eyes at u

Bert always has a haunted look about him, like a sickly Victorian child.

Bert, you're not sick. You're just small.

Bert is one(1)
molecule large...
Perhaps even one atom.

* Two little paws! *

I would've loved to feed Bert from a plate to prevent whisker fatigue. Unfortunately, he eats like an arcade coin pusher.

Ate, and left many, many crumbs.

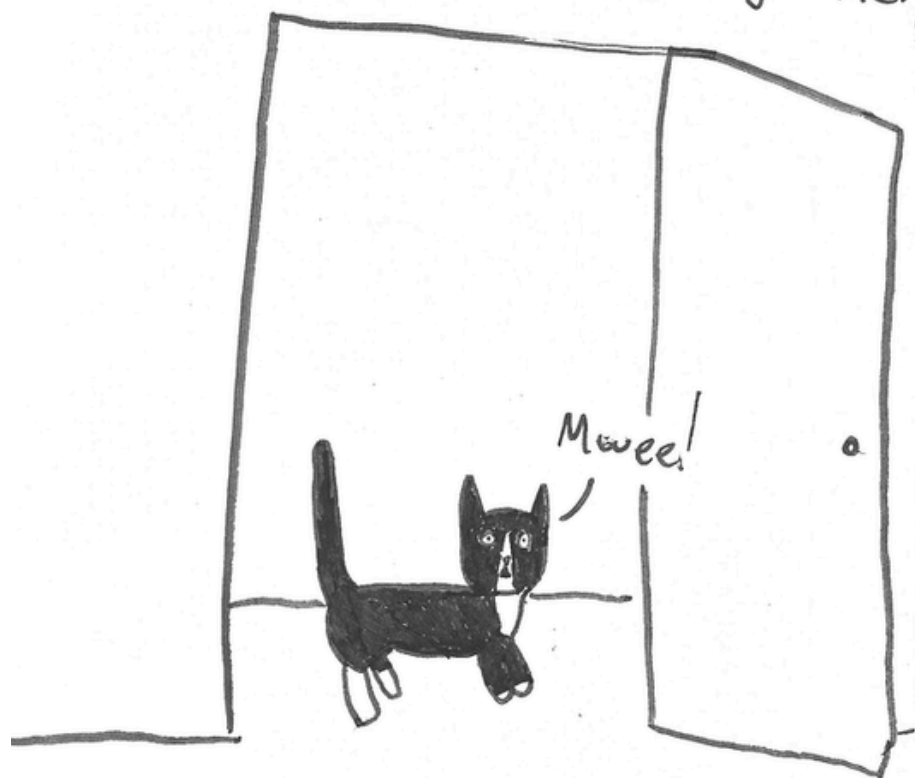

Bert's Journey to Nap On My Dresser

Key: ① A jump atop my AC unit ② Stop to knock several frinkles off my shelf

③ Spring off of my hanging clothes to reach the top shelf
④ Cross the top shelf & prop
down to the dresser

Bert rarely co-sleeps with me, but whenever he hears me wake up, he comes running to greet me.

Pro tip: If your cat is sleepy enough, he can be moved from between your legs (uncomfortable) to in your arms getting spooned (much better).

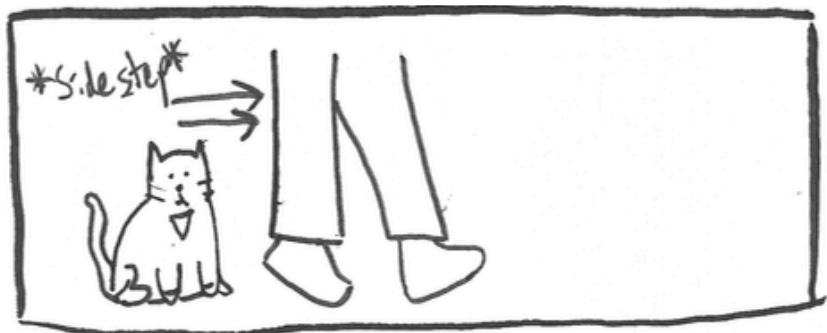

At his last trip to the vet,
Bert rolled his cardboard carrier down the front stoop and then broke out of it and wandered around the car.

Mwee!

Bert is always fucking

STANCED

for some reason.

Bert & Wasabi; Drawn to Scale

All around the coffee table,
the monkey chased the weasel.

Wasabi is LARGE with a big fat pouch because he rarely purrs, saving up all his love & letting it out on special occasions.

Bart is small because he is constantly purring at nothing, emitting love everywhere he goes.

WRESTLEMANIA

Bert has a heart
on his tummy
because he loves you.
